

City of Austin

Law Department

Ethics & Compliance Team

Formerly the Integrity Office, the Ethics and Compliance Team is now a function of the Law Department, comprised of attorneys and training staff who provide legal advice and citywide classes and online training based on City code, policies, and expectations.

Intended to serve educational purposes, the Ethics & Compliance Team does not conduct investigations nor give advice to members of the public. The team only addresses questions and requests for training submitted by City officials, boards and commissions members, or employees.
